We've come a long way since we laid the foundations of our construction and project development company.

It all began for Wade Adams over 40 years ago with a small fleet and team in the African continent – and today I am enormously proud of our growth to become one of the top contractors in the Gulf region.

It's all thanks to the vision of our leadership, the high quality work of our 11,000+ strong team, and the capabilities of our 4,000-strong fleet of heavy construction equipment.

Wade Adams has built a successful business that offers premium infrastructure construction services to high profile clients across the region. We pride ourselves on our reputation for doing exceptional work. We thrive on the challenges of demanding projects and changes in technology. And we have the resources and reputable partners available to bring any vision to life.

With decades of delivering innovative and sustainable construction services to the private and public sectors behind us, we continue to look forward. We continue to build the future.
